

Join other dads via Zoom to connect and discuss positive parenting strategies:

23
MAY

From Boys to Men: Keys to Effective Fatherhood

5:00 PM - 7:00 PM

This workshop will discuss positive communication efforts to help young and/or new fathers especially to those of Black and brown children. Topics will include courage and achievements, growing pains, strengths of Black and brown families, releasing past hurt, and understand and cope with racism.

27
JUNE

It's Okay to Say, 'I Love You'

5:00 PM - 7:00 PM

This workshop will discuss showing positive affection to your children through teenage and adult years. Topics will include toxic masculinity, effective communication, celebrating wins, self-love, and meeting your child where they are.

Meet Terrance Harris, M. Ed

THE FACILITATOR

Terrance has over 10 years of experience as a Higher Education professional along with 8 years of experience as a peer educator, parent coach, and tobacco cessation specialist. He instructs parenting courses for Linn, Benton, and Lincoln Counties and is certified through the Effective Black Parenting program.

For more information and registration:

Pollywog (541) 917-4884

SCAN ME

